Introduction

Becky Quinn took her first national title in 2002, and ended 2003 with a bang by winning the Manhattan Beach Grand Prix. She kicked off 2004 with trips to UCI World Cups in Moscow and Aguascalientes. Becky is a strong contender for impressive finishes this season, as she started off the season earning a silver medal in a World Cup scratch race.

Personal

Becky graduated from Quakertown Senior High in 1989, where she played field hockey, basketball, soccer, and ran track. She went on to Penn State and earned a degree in elementary education in 1993.

Favorite Pastimes

When she has some time off, Becky enjoys skiing and hiking.

How She Got Here

Becky grew up around the Lehigh Valley Velodrome in Trexlertown, Pa., where track cycling is a way of life. She rode in college, but started racing full-time in 1996 after a short teaching career.
